Sometime in the past - before 9/11/01 - the world changed. Magic appeared in the world; guns and internal combustion engines stopped working. Life in the post-Change world is nasty, brutal and short. Pete has been wandering since the world changed. The one thing that made life livable for him was meeting Ariel, a unicorn.

A necromancer is beginning to create a power base in New York, and Ariel and Pete are right in the center of an assault on the Empire State Building. This is a fun well-written book. It is more amazing for the fact that it was written by Steven R. Boyett when he was twenty.
